On May 8, 1995, Dennis Vish filed a formal complaint against AT&T Communications of the South Central States, Inc. ("AT&T") alleging that AT&T was charging a rate that was not contained in its intrastate tariff. On May 31, 1995, AT&T was ordered to satisfy or answer the complaint. On June 12, 1995, AT&T filed its answer and made a motion to dismiss. The Commission sought additional information from AT&T by an Order dated July 21, 1995, which AT&T answered on August 10, 1995.

AT&T was charging Mr. Vish a $5.00 Customer Account Minimum Monthly Charge on his business account. This is an interstate charge tariffed by the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC"). Customers are charged $5.00 when the activity of their account is less than $5.00 for the month. AT&T properly filed this tariff at the FCC and gave notice to its customers through various methods.

Because the tariff in question was a properly filed interstate tariff, IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the complaint be dismissed.

Done at Frankfort, Kentucky, this 10th day of October, 1995.
